

Gina Giordano, Retail Business Strategist, Customer Experience Specialist, Client Relationship Developer.

As a strategic retailer, Gina Giordano holds a passion for creating exceptional customer experience, through coaching, mentoring, and team development along with retail expertise in leveraging Data insights that drive competitive positioning and sales growth. Creating partnerships with cross-functional leaders localizing, iterating, and driving initiatives through to tactical execution. Gina has held advancing positions in Bloomingdales, Macy's, Saks Fifth Avenue, as well as an internal consultant in the fine jewelry industry. Currently, adjunct instructor for the Fashion Institute of Technology, New York.